JULY—SEPTEMBER, 1939.

The Suffering Armenians

It was a long-distance night train, everybody was settling down to snatch a little sleep when along the corridor came the pitiful cry of a baby. It went on for a while, when a gruff voice called out, "Won't that child's mother keep it quiet?" The reply had a sob in it, "She can't, she's in her coffin in the guard's van and I've been awake two nights trying to quieten it." There was a sudden movement, the owner of the first voice was along the corridor and returned with the baby. With a little coaxing and fondling it was soon asleep; in the morning it was returned to its father with the words, "I'm sorry I spoke so unkind last night, but I did not know."

Dear friends, please do not blame us for continually pleading for the Armenians, we must take care of the aged widows, the orphans, the suffering.

of the members of the Moravian Church (founded 207 years ago) becomes a Missionary, as compared with about one in 5,000 in the Churches generally.

There are over 300 Mission Stations scattered over some of the hardest and loneliest of the world's places. Do you feel guided to aid the self-denying labours of those working there to extend the Kingdom of God?

Contributions will be gratefully acknowledged by Horace E. Lindsey, Hon. Sec.

The King & Queen in Canada

Welcomed with enthusiastic loyalty everywhere—nowhere had a more thrilling reception than in the Prairie Provinces.

One of our daily papers wondered how much, if anything, was told their Majesties of the long struggle to survive by the hardy inhabitants of this drought-stricken region. There, wheat is the foundation of life. The drought years have reduced thousands to desperate straits—but not broken the spirit of the people.

The C.C.C.S. which has been in a large measure responsible for the supply of ordained workers in this vast area, is anxious to continue its assistance to the full. If it cannot, then the Missionary work done by early pioneers will be wasted, or at east, will fail to produce the fruit that should be possible.

At this crisis, do you feel led to send a contribution to the Secretary?
